Easter blessing!!! I want to wish each of you a very Happy and Glorious Easter. The risen Lord is with us and is seeing us through this Coronavirus pandemic.

Below is a quote from Fr. Jean Baptist Saint-Jure, S.J. (1588 - 1657) from his great work entitled The Knowledge and Love of Our Lord Jesus Christ. While his words may seem a little shocking to modern ears, they are quite apropos and accurate.

“In Public Calamities

We ought to conform to God’s Will in all public calamities such as war, famine and pestilence, and reverence and adore His judgement's with deep humility in the firm belief that, however severe they may seem the God of infinite goodness would not send such disasters unless some great good were to result from them. Consider how many souls may be saved through tribulation which would otherwise be lost, how many persons through affliction are converted to God and die with sincere repentance for their sins. What may appear a scourge and punishment is often a sign of great grace and mercy.

As far as we are personally concerned, let us meditate well on this truth of our faith *that the very hairs of our head are numbered*¹, and not one of them will fall except by the [permissive] will of God. In other words, we cannot suffer the least harm unless He wills and orders [allows] it. Relying on this truth we can easily understand that we have nothing more or less to fear in times of public calamity than at any other time. God can just as easily protect us in the midst of general ruin and despair as He can deliver us from evil while all around is peace and content. The only thing we need to be concerned about is to gain His favor, and this is the inevitable effect of conforming our will to His. Let us therefore hasten to accept from His hand all that He sends us, and as a result of our trustful surrender He will either cause us to gain the greatest advantages from our misfortunes or else spare us them altogether.“
